I thank the Living, Eternal and Almighty God whom I serve and who graciously poured His blessings on me and these words from His throne to cheer, to heal and comfort my heart in times of struggle. Again I thank Him for the opportunity to share them with His children.

This book is dedicated to all those who recognize their humanity and frailty and who humbly seek the Father's lap to be restored and healed, like a child who knows his need to be guided, taught and comforted. To all the warriors that need the encouragement and the strength of Jesus to be victorious.

Preface

In prayer before the Throne, God gave me visions that directed and clarified me, and words that came to meet my needs, anointing me with the strength to walk and make decisions, often difficult and decisive.

This book contains messages for emotional release and edification of the soul. Most of them were written in contact with nature, where the inspiration of God flows more freely for me, because everything in nature reflects His infinite wisdom. And His wisdom and simplicity help us to see the situations around us more clearly. This book is a compilation of messages given by God, right after “Building the temple like Solomon I.”

Some of the messages were for me. Others, for some people with whom I corresponded by letters. Surely, they will help you as well, men and women of God.

I am convinced that you will also have experiences with the Lord through these messages; experiences of revelation, healing and deliverance from the problems you’re facing.

The Holy Spirit may speak several times in the same message according to His purpose for each child, showing that He is creative, His action is very wide and His power has no limits when it comes to bless us. For each reader the Lord will give a direction on how to handle and take advantage of this work.

If Spirit of God touches your heart, pass them forth. His direction for this work is the multiplication of blessings through the love He puts into our hearts for all the poor and needy. The bible says in 2 Tim. 2: 9b: “But the word of God is not chained.” And in Rom. 10: 8 it is written: “But what does it say? The word is near you, on your lips and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim).” The multiplication of the Word brings prosperity.

We are ‘carrier pigeons’ of the Father. We must be His sowers, taking in our ‘beak’ the seeds of life.

I hope you may be blessed, healed and free every day of your life. It is in giving that one receives. In heaven is the true treasure, but here on earth we make the deposit. When you sow the word of truth desiring the salvation of souls, you reap eternal life and a great reward before God.

I love you in Jesus.

Tânia Cristina

On this bridge you'll may stop to rest and observe the clean waters that I created to revive the fish and crops. Hear the soft sound of them passing through the rocks and perceive what they say. It's my voice you hear. I have desired to speak to you, to touch your heart with comfort and show you that I have separated something new and different for you, a new and fertile land, where you will find true life and the peace you conquered through struggle. If there are still giants to bring down, I'll help you, but they will fall quickly now, for I strengthened you and gave you perseverance, determination and will to win. I took from you the fear and anxiety and I filled you with courage and boldness. Wait on me, rest on my promises. Remember my word that says, "This water flows towards the eastern region and goes down into the Jordan Valley, where it enters the Dead Sea. When it empties into the Dead Sea the water there becomes fresh... Fruit trees of all kinds will grow on both banks of the river. Their leaves will not wither, nor will their fruit fail. Every month they will bear, because the water from the sanctuary flows to them. Their fruit will serve for food and their leaves for healing." Receive it and let it act on you.

I'm a shelter and refuge for those who seek me. I'm a strong tower for those who need the strength to walk. I'm a place of rest for tired sheep. If your struggles seem to exhaust your strength, come to me today. I wait for you. I have a meeting with you. My voice will calm and strengthen you. My embrace will protect and heal you. My words will be food and healing. Leave anxiety and the distractions that surround you. Take some time for both of us and you'll see that your heart will be relieved and you will want other meetings; it is what I also wish. That is what I seek every day with all my children. The experience you have, pass it on to your brothers; so, they too will come to me, will be freed and healed and you will rejoice, because what you could not solve with your own strength will have solution for good and victory, for it will proceed from me. Don't worry too much about you, because just one worrying thought that goes through your mind would be too much for you.

You think that the sea before you will remain forever wild and threatening, but nothing endures forever when I'm in your boat. I can raise my hands at any time to calm the raging waters and cease the winds. In peace and lull you will hear my voice and you'll gain the courage to walk safely over the waves as if on dry land. I stretch out my hands today quieting the water and opening the heavens so that you may see the sunlight and the soothing blue of the firmament. I am your God, your Shepherd, your loving Father, your Master and inseparable companion. Hold my hand and you will feel the security you look for. I am your strength. I'll never leave you, nor forsake you. Rejoice and praise me, because you have exercised your faith and won. You have experienced more of me. Your attitudes of faith, love, surrender, meekness and perseverance influence many people and they will come to you to know your God.

Do not suffer, do not be discouraged or impatient with the hardened hearts you see around you. My waters continue hitting them through your praise and intercession. With my eternal and holy eyes I can see that are already being transformed. They are no longer as before. Soon you will rejoice, because you will see that I carved them as a careful sculptor carving the rough stone or hard wood. Did I not do the same with your heart? I can also do with those whom you love. While I'm working on them, work in those already softened and hungry for life that I bring to you. You will sow them as a farmer which has a good ground ahead and waters it with love and patience, waiting for what you planted to germinate. Some are already springing up, others are already bearing fruit and others are still hidden in the ground to begin to awaken. Receive today the renewing waters of my throne and drink them, for they will strengthen you and will help you to restore your being. The wind of My Spirit will bring to your ears the soft sound of my voice.

I restored everything that seemed dry and lifeless in you, for I am God of the living, not of the dead. From a dry trunk and of roots apparently dead I make branches and fruit sprout. The waters of my Spirit bring renewal. Give your path to me and I will act, helping you to rebuild your temple and your walls. What you feel in your heart as an impulse of life and joy, love and kindness, carry out without fear, for it is direction that comes from my throne for you. I am working on your behalf, bringing victory and multiplication of blessings. What frightened you will no longer affront you. I myself destroyed it in the fire of my zeal. Every day I guide you, protect you, watch you and make your ways smooth because I've have planned you for victory. I know that you have waited to harvest what you've sowed with tears. Fear not, it will come and you will see with your own eyes the fertile field in front of you. Look at the wheat. Do not worry about the tares. I take care of both. I will make your wheat stronger and more exuberant; it will feed many and will multiply your supplies.

I am He who feeds my children, supplying them in all their needs. I am He who looks for fishers of men for my kingdom. So, be willing to cast your net on the other side of the boat and then you'll see the prosperity and the abundance in your barns. Until now, you have cast your net in waters sterile of life and you got exhausted in your work. Do not lose heart. Obey my orders today and cast your net on the other side. You will be surprised with the abundance I can give you in every way; spiritual and material, because like the shepherd drinks of the milk of the flock, the fisherman feeds on what's in his nets. My waters are inexhaustible and all forms of life that live on them are fruitful and generators of blessings. Don't give up the work I gave you. It is blessed by my own hands and protected by my mantle of light and love. I've seen your ways. I'm pleased with the desire of your heart to serve me. It will never be taken away from you but it will become stronger.

My Spirit is pure and crystalline water that flows from my heart to yours, always leading you forward, watering the dry lands and enlivening the fish that live on it. My word is water that cools and heals, that renews and restores. Nothing can stop its flow in your life. Open your mouth with faith and confidence, because I will fill it, and you will glorify me. Thus, you will see that it will never be lacking to you. Seek my understanding every day, the wisdom and the revelation of my Spirit, and when you read my word, it will be alive for you. I have desired to speak to you. I have new things to reveal to you, treasures to show you. I have blessings to bestow upon you, because I made you a vessel of honor to be light for the blind, refreshment to the afflicted and the hopeless and instrument of deliverance to the captives; also to bring joy and peace, to exhort, to comfort and teach. When you do this for others, when you do it for my little ones, you receive the double portion of anointing. I am your reward and your inheritance.

I'm with you on this boat to take you to discover new horizons. Where I wish to take you, the waters are calm and clear and you will see clearly everything ahead. But if the waves stir up and the storm wishes to come, remember that I am with you to calm down the waters and bring back peace and lull. When I steer my children's boat, I have a purpose: to make them try new things and bring my presence to those who are lost. I wish to teach them how to fish. I've been in your life and have taught you to act both on land and in waters. So fear not. Let yourself be guided by my Spirit and you will feel my safety in any situation. It is necessary for my children to be warriors and explorers who try everything to be complete, mature, to reach the whole measure of the fullness of Christ. You are more than conqueror. Hold the helm firmly and direct your sails to victory.

That's how I want to keep you: an enclosed garden; watered and cared for my Spirit. So be strong and courageous, put out the invaders and pluck the weeds. My Spirit is a lamp lit in your heart to help you inspect and restore. Don't let the door of fear stay opened, but close it, and in its place put bricks and raise the strong walls of love and faith. My angels will be in charge of taking care of you. They will help you multiply the fruit, flowers and seeds of life that you plant. Lift up your head and pass courageously before the enemy, because I already defeated him on the cross. Take possession of the land that I gave you. Care for it with dedication and love and do not let your arms be idle. Continue to work for me and you will have your reward. I'll restore what you thought you had lost, and your strength and your hope will be renewed. Look at the door of your garden. It is written on it, "Exclusive Property of Jesus Christ."

Whatever you want to build is possible. Do not be afraid, only believe, and I will provide all the material necessary for you to be successful. What you decide on will be done, and light will shine on your ways. Seek my wisdom to build your dream. But throw away selfishness and mediocrity. The house you build needs to be large and welcoming to receive other brothers in hospitality. Don't worry about the supply. I take care of the storeroom and the kitchen. My Spirit will help you in the design of the architecture and my angels will help you in construction, decoration and protection. Arise and do the work. Open your heart for me so that I can help you plan everything. Also give me control of the basement and the attic so that they do not become garbage dumps, but cozy places where I'll keep your treasures. Don't get discouraged, take the shovel in your hand and work with faith. I oversee everything. I love you and care for you.

Do not be afraid to lead the flock that I have placed before you, even if the pasture seems scarce. I feed my sheep myself. I'll gather them; I will heal the wounded, I'll bind up the broken and bring back the lost, but I will destroy the fat one and strong that brings unrest and divides my flock. I have given you authority to guide them in my name, so do not be afraid to make use of discipline. The wisdom will teach you to do it with love, meekness and determination. I will take care of the rebels. Even if they suffer for a while, paying the price for their reckless acts, wait with faith. Soon they will recognize that they need the real learning and through you they will seek the Good Shepherd. Watch over and take care with love of those who need care; however, teach them the right and holy way. My own hands help you hold the staff. You will never walk alone, neither will feel unprotected. You'll have all the help and the supply you need. The flock will grow and multiply and will bring joy to your heart, because you will see that its wool is white; stains will not make it ugly. I myself remove them with my blood.

Often you ask if fortresses may rise again from ruins, but have you not seen this miracle? The impossible with men is possible with God. Remain in your position and watch the horizon until you see visible resources emerging. Some people are already coming, attracted by your light and by the strength that I placed in you to lead. What is pure and clear is coming to you. The clouds in the sky will bring the rain of blessings that you are waiting for. Meanwhile, continue to put stone upon stone, because what you build is firm and solid. Neither winds nor the waters will put it down. I am your foundation. I keep you safe, I protect you, strengthen you, I supply you in your needs and provide helpers and workers so that you don't work alone. Put yourself in the watchtower and see what I will say to you, and what I will answer concerning your grievance. Write the vision; make it plain on tablets, so that a runner may read it, for there is still a vision for the appointed time. If it seems to tarry, wait for it; it will surely come, it will not delay. My righteous live by his faith. What I make you see is real, I will never disappoint you, but I will fulfill the promise and will bring the miracle.

I gave Joshua the city he asked for, Timnath-Serah, in the hill country of Ephraim, because he believed in me, leaned on my promise, had the courage to conquer his land and helped his brothers to take possession of theirs, so my right hand brought him victory. I have helped you achieve what you have asked, so persevere and I will help you reign. Don't be a weakling or a coward; don't give up hastily on what I gave you and don't let yourself be deceived by the rebels and envious that with discouraging and lying words try to make you give up and see another land. It's necessary to know how to see the blessings of the possession I gave you: the milk and honey that often seem invisible in the smoke and in wind of the fight. In my kingdom the blessings are conquered through effort and those who strive take hold of them. The cowards and slanderers, the envious and greedy have no part in my table. But for you I separated the best and you shall glorify me and exalt me, for I am your God, am greater than all gods and the people will serve me.

You'll always have a safe harbor to shelter and to restore yourself from your adventures in the sea. I am your safe harbor, He who provides for you moments of rest after days of exhausting work. Trust me. I will never fail to steer the helm of your boat. Make your heart willing to serve me and be ready to set sail whenever it's necessary to fish for my kingdom. I'll keep the waters calm in front of you whenever it's possible so that you can cast your nets safely. You will be surprised with the size of fish and will glorify me for the abundance that I will pour upon you. Give, and it will be given to you. A good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, will be put into your lap; for the measure you give will be the measure you get back, that's what my word says. Don't fear theft or destruction anymore. You will be protected from the lash of the tongue. You will laugh at destruction and famine, for you will have a covenant with the stones of the field, and the wild animals will be at peace with you. You will know that your tent is secure; you will inspect your property and find nothing is missing. You will know that your children will be many, and your descendants like the grass of the earth.

Whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. I have given you the keys to do justice and righteousness, freeing and rejoicing your brothers and dethroning all evil. I sharpened your sword to cut the evil bonds and made of your mouth a seed of life to sow peace and love among my people. Nobody can disturb the peace that I put in your heart, so do not fear when the waters look agitated around you. Inside you they are quiet and serene. Arise, my love, my fair one and come. The time of singing has come, and the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land. For now the winter is past, the rain is over and gone. The night and the winter are finished in your life and the day is already dawning. The path of the righteous is like the light of dawn, which shines brighter and brighter until full day. Therefore, grow every day in my presence, in love and holiness, and your light will shine more and more. Your light will be brighter than noonday. Don't stop sowing because you will reap abundantly.

As you walk, look at the footprints you left in the sand. I carried you in my arms many times, so you see only my footsteps. But look also at yours beside me and see that I drove you strongly along my paths, even though they seemed winding to you. Observe that they are firm, because you relied on me and I encouraged you to walk. I will continue to guide you. Look at the open sky over your head, for I promised to open it to pour out my blessings. My light will continue to illuminate you and the warmth of my heart will continue to snuggle you. Feel the cool waters that bathe your feet and notice the immensity that you have before you. It is for you to remember that my power is endless, my love is everlasting and everything you need I am able to provide. If you want to dive, feel free to do it. You will be surprised at the abundance, beauty and diversity that exist beneath the waves. So is my kingdom. Your glory is to search it out and bring to the beach of your life everything you need to be happy and to show me to men. I made you to be the salt of the earth.

Your way now seems to be ascending and you get tired of the climb. But I'll give you the strength to complete the journey because it's taking you to the places of honor and ransom. Those who despised you and wasted time trying to tie you up or destroy you, will see now the distance between you and them and the height they will have to climb to get where you got. Regret will reach them and they will stretch out their hands for help. will overtake them and they will stretch out for help. Then you'll show them my hands and they will know that the same strong hands that supported you will be available to help them to go up too. But it is up to them to hold them or not.

You are a rare jewel, a lush and fragrant flower in the midst of your brothers. The gifts I gave you are precious and useful where I put you. Why, then, do you fear exercising them? Do not fear the rejection of men; they are lies used by the enemy to make you give up. I'll strengthen you so that you move forward and no longer be afraid to show your light. Through you I will bring revival to my people and everything that seemed dead will gain new life. Many around you remain silent and suffering when they go through trials, sometimes even hopeless, because they cannot see or hear the incentive or the fire of boldness in their brothers. Rise up like Deborah and prophesy the victory. At the sound of your order, many warriors will rise again.

For you shall go out in joy, and be led back in peace; the mountains and the hills before you shall burst into song, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. I made you to reign. The cedars will bow before you, for they will see my glory in your life and my mantle of authority. Your struggle, although it looks big, is not taking away your vitality, but is strengthening you and teaching you to rule with authority and justice over all that made you retreat before. Raise your scepter and your spear, for you approach the day of victory when the weapons of war will be replaced by the string instruments and the dances of joy. I'm with you. I love you and protect you.

Everything you plant, water and take care with love in my garden will blossom and will rejoice your eyes with beauty and peace. Often you don't understand why you strive to keep the garden clean and why it seems so difficult the daily care with new seeds. None of them are alike and many need special and constant care, for they will become large trees. So is the flock that I put in your hands. Although many sheep do not seem to want walking and you get dismayed, don't give rest to your hands. Persevere and you will see with joy that your labor of love for me was not in vain. I don't put anything in your hands that you can't accomplish.

I'll never leave you, nor forsake you. I'm by your side so that your path is flat and of peace. My word are the landmarks that I put around you to direct you. Receive it fully and let it act in your heart; don't be afraid when it transforms into a sword. It's just to cut the weeds of the earth and smooth the way. Do not be careless servant, but present yourself to God as one approved by him, a worker who has no need to be ashamed, correctly handling the word of truth. I wish to bring many to you to be liberated and healed; however, I must teach you first to make good use of it. Notice the tests I have given you. Are they not to train you in the word? Don't complain, but exercise it with faith. I gave you my authority and power.

Nothing can seem gray and desolate when my children apply the power of my Spirit in praise, worship and prayer; thus, I bring them my life that changes everything. You have been through struggles; sometimes you get discouraged and think about giving up your blessings. But don't give up. Remember the promise I gave you and my army that I put on your side to help you. My angels need to hear my orders through your mouth to start acting. Read my word with faith and don't let the complaints find room in your life. My word is the order that my angels wait to act. Strengthen yourself in it and in the fellowship with me and you will see the miracle.

You have received my revelations and many of them frighten you, because you think what I reserved for you is too great. But don't be afraid nor be dismayed. I'm with you and I pour my wisdom on you so that you can stand ahead of the mission I gave you. You're not alone. Don't be afraid to err in your decisions, for my Spirit helps you to make them. Many need your testimony of life in order to believe in my word and to assume the position I appointed to them. The creation awaits my revelation through my children; so go forward, do not retreat in the face of challenges. It's to break the barriers of darkness. You are light

I am the spring of life and I am available for all those who seek me in spirit and in truth. Whoever drinks from my water will never feel thirsty, but will be a spring of water welling up to eternal life. I put in you my Spirit of resurrection and life, so open your mouth and let my word flow, for it is free and will never run out. You shall be surprised with the strength that springs from it and you'll feel in your heart the desire of making it flow in the needy and thirsty hearts. I'll help you water them and you shall know the joy of serving and loving. You'll not feel alone anymore, but will rejoice by the offspring that will come from you.

Do you want to overcome the obstacles and see your life from above? Just accept my help and the challenge to walk with me, even though many times my methods seem daring and risky. However, I like the brave, because I can walk with them beyond the limits. I call you today to accept new challenges, to leave what seems safe and known to you. I wish to lead you to a new level, where you will no longer be a slave, but king. I want to make you a pioneer of new lands and a worker for the kingdom of God. Do you accept the challenge? Answer yes to my call.

Do you desire a place of peace and silence to live? Do you desire to make your spirit my sanctuary? Receive, today, the certainty that this is also the desire of my heart to you, for you shall be holy instrument in my hands to repair the gaps of those who have the walls destroyed and ruined. Strive in the work of restoration of your soul and your spirit, don't neglect prayer, worship and the reading of the word and soon you'll feel the strength and security. It seems difficult to you to rebuild certain areas, but remember that in me you will find the necessary skill and the wisdom that will bring you success. Don't let your hands get weak.

I have never failed to feed my people in their journey through the land, for I am a God who provides. Fear not if your supply seems scarce; I will supply your basic needs and you will not borrow. I made you the head, and not the tail. So rise up and go to fight. When you begin to see with the clear eyes of faith, you'll conquer the material abundance that you desire and many have needed of it. I have forged you to bless my children, so you have known what scarcity is. It's for when you are back in abundance you remember the less fortunate. I love those who give with joy.

In the middle of Eden I put the tree of life, but my first children didn't notice it, and chose another, more lush and fruitful. They realized the mistake; however, it was late and the bad fruit that they ate killed them spiritually. My Son came into the world to restore the covenant with me and to open the way to Eden again to all who long for the unity and perfect harmony with their Creator. Give your hand to me and I will lead you back to the state of wholeness and harmony, to your original state of perfection. Let me come into your life and be your Lord. You will never know death and I will give you the eternal life. I'm Jesus and I call you.

Daughter, all your tests and your walk take you to climb up the steps that bring you closer to my altar. From glory to glory you achieve lives for my kingdom, and from glory to glory you conquer your land. So, walk in faith, for you approach the place that I set apart for you, along with the princes of my people. Those who approach you will see my light and also will know the way by which I want to lead them. What I put in you is a conquered treasure. Teach your brothers to be conquerors, for my kingdom still has much land to be explored and conquered. You are my beloved. I take care of you.

I want to lead you on paths of peace, but remember that it is up to you to open them and firm them through your actions and your words of faith. I gave you authority over serpents and scorpions and over all the power of the enemy and nothing, absolutely, will hurt you. Why, then, do you allow them to nest in your life? Observe those who surround you and see if they are good company for you. You will influence them, but you will not be influenced by them, unless you allow. I have called you to holiness and truth. Don't be afraid to follow me or change your life. Those who take up the plow and look back cannot be my disciples.

Many are afraid to try new things, but in you I put boldness and determination to move forward always. My angels are around you and walk ahead of you, removing the stones so that you do not stumble. My wisdom and my prudence will teach you how to continue, leading you achieve the victory. It is close and many will rejoice with it as well, for they will be reached by the blessings that I will pour on you. Your true friends will be by your side and you will no longer fear betrayal or disappointment. What I have for you is joy and communion.

Your attitudes of faith and fidelity to me open the way for your brothers to know me and bring spiritual revival for them to seek my true purpose in their lives. I am a loving Father who disciplines, teaches, protects, supplies, consoles and guards his children. Many are lost and deceived, but through your testimony of life they will get courage and determination to come to me in search of light. My word is alive in your mouth and it is free to exercise my sovereign will. Continue to be my instrument, because to me you are a precious vessel.

When my Son came to earth was to reveal to the world the true way, the truth and the life; unfortunately, not everyone wanted to follow Him. So don't weep for those who despise the truth or mock my word and your covenant with me. Leave them in my hands and go your way. I will exalt you to possess your promised land. Not all hearts are ready to accept my truth. Many will still take some time to wake up from the spiritual sleep in which they live. However, those who have already woken up will acknowledge my presence in you and will wish my living waters.

My river always takes you forward, advancing to the sea, so the past waters no longer have influence over your life. My river never turns back. So, you can look back and glorify me by the achievements that I gave you and concentrate with confidence on what lies ahead, knowing that what awaits you is my abundance. You will no longer feel thirsty or shortage of supply and all that I'll bring to your life will be pure and without sorrow, for it is the fruit of the loving labor of your hands. Your seeds of peace and justice will flourish and you will not feel alone anymore.

Did I not make you a new creature? So, fear not; the paths will also be new. There will be no wild beast in it and the unclean shall not pass over it; it will be only for my saints. Those whom I will bring to you will have hunger and thirst for my word, for they have a sincere heart and you will not get sad, but you'll feel the joy of feeding them and seeing them grow in freedom and holiness before me. I know that you have thirst for justice and wish to present the fruit of your work before my throne to rejoice me. There is surely a future hope for you, and your hope will not be cut off. Continue to look at the light of my face and I'll enlighten and restore you.

Daughter, don't fear; where I lead you I will open your way before you so that you may be certain of my purpose. I'm about to pour on your life the unlimited blessings I promised and you'll not feel pressured by the enemy anymore, but you will laugh and glorify my name because I have appointed you my witness on earth. Those who look at you will see my glory and those who despised and oppressed you will fear before me. When I act, who can prevent it? Don't fear for your sustenance. I'm acting and you will not suffer humiliation.

The fears and accusations that have been placed on you are no longer hindrances for you to come to my throne. In you, the flow of my waters is constant and will restore you whenever it's necessary. Do not fear to exercise my authority on earth, for I've prepared you to exercise it in love and many paths will be corrected by it. Don't be afraid or retreat from the work I gave you. As I called Moses, David and Abraham and enabled them to my purpose, I call you and empower you to exercise my will. You have overcome the challenges and known that the one who is in you is greater than the one who is in the world.

Don't worry if others pray for the goals they think correct, because, in fact, I gave to you the freedom to determine your own life. I am God of peace, not of confusion, and when my mouth speaks, it will speak not after the flesh, but by my Spirit in an accordant manner with what I have already put in your heart. Don't fear; no word enchains you to bondage anymore. It was for freedom that I set you free. The timid have a partial view of things; however, the Spirit of boldness and conquest that I put in you will make you overcome the limitations and see farther and more clearly.

Wait for my work because I am the bridge that leads you to your promised land. You crossed deserts, seas, rivers and valleys and prevailed, for I was with you and didn't hand you over to the enemy. I call you to eat at my bountiful table, which is the privilege of my saints. Don't suffer for the disobedience of others anymore. I gave everyone the free will and what I determined will be fulfilled. Your faithfulness to me will have reward and nothing will be lacking for you on earth. The prosperity that I pour upon you will extend to my people and they will learn with you the secret of giving themselves unconditionally to me.

Stay in peace and in the vision I gave you, because you will call to you a nation that thinks and feels like you. By lighting your light, my people will come to you and those you didn't know will recognize the way they shall follow and the truth that I put in you. You're not sterile, but fertile and precious vessel in my hands and great will be your offspring, because I put the blessing of Abraham upon you. The peace of your children will be great and they will follow my ways. They will not be lost, for I have already determined my will upon them. Wait on me. I have worked in ways that you don't know so that you may be a blessing to many. I loved and blessed you.

Keep my peace in your heart as a seal of my promise and it will make you conquer everything that you yearn. I drive the enemy away with my hands and strengthen you to carry out the mission I have given you. You are free and a winner and nothing can hold you back or hinder your ways. Fear not. What tries to stop your move is under my dominion and no longer has the strength to act. It is a lie with an appearance of truth. Therefore, continue to look only to me and hear only my voice in your heart, for I am your shepherd.

Do you think I don't hear you? Do you think I don't know the deepest desire of your heart? Even though it seems to be different before men, it is real and true for me. I myself implanted it in you. Nothing can prevent its accomplishment, because I know your surrender to me and the courage to endure any obstacle for my work. Don't fear if what you do seems difficult. My Spirit empowers you and soon what seemed foolish to men will manifest bringing my light and my power. Quiet your heart and praise me. I am your helper.

As of today you will lift up your head and will pass with sovereignty before the enemy, and angels and demons will be submissive to you, for they will see my seal of victory in your life. You handed it over to me and bravely resisted temptations, so I'll give you my authority and the crown I have kept for you so that you rule and have dominion over your foes. No charges or doubts remain in your life. You know which way you must follow.

Keep the victory I gave you, because it will open the doors to new ways and to new victories and you will rejoice by the miracles that will happen before you. Did you think you had lost your strength? But you didn't lose it. On the contrary, you increased it and broadened your borders. What seemed scary before you was defeated and from now on you will experience my newness of life. What you determine will come to pass, for it will not be your mouth that will speak, but mine, through my Spirit.

Even if many people don't understand your attitudes, walk in faith and firm in what I designed for you, because very soon what seemed folly to men will be manifested with the revelation of God's power. Your work will reach many lives and will cause transformation and change in many hearts, bringing healing, repentance, light and correcting the direction of tortuous paths.

If others do not understand you and you feel distant from what is yours, don't be afraid. I'm the bridge that will make you cross the distances and will help you to take possession of what I set aside for you. I myself will chase away the curious and envious, so that they do not covet your treasure. They may even covet and desire, but the throne has your name, and the robe and crown only fit you, because I made them the right size. You are my beloved, I am your defender and evil will not touch you. You have been faithful; hence, I'll also show you my fidelity.

I will keep you, protect you and will lift you up before your brothers. They will acknowledge my presence, my light and my authority on you and it will not be challenged. Do not fear to use the gift and the power I gave you, for it is under the dominion of my Spirit and He will teach you only what is right and holy. You came across evil, but I gave you victory and it will no longer affront you. Don't fear because of those who surround you. They will support your decision and praise my name by your choice because they will see my transformation in you.

The way to the throne seems lonely and the struggles seem to be greater than for those who are content to be governed. I called you for a special purpose, because I took you from the sheepfold, as did with David, to reign over my people. Don't fear the responsibility that I give you because I don't give anything to my children that they cannot bear. I have for you a light yoke and the wings of freedom. Chains and shackles will no longer arrest you nor will stop you.

Seek me and you will find me, when you seek me with all your heart.

Seek me for who I am, not for what I can give or return.

Seek me to know the secrets of my heart and to understand my will.

Seek me to be full with my love and to overflow it on the needy and afflicted around you.

Seek me and you will find the wisdom to reign among my people.

Seek me to be touched and to touch me in my essence.

Seek me to know how to please me and to know my secrets of victory.

Seek me as consolation, strength, refuge, judge, lawyer, savior and defender.

Seek me, for I am the Father and you are my son.

Son, I made you a warrior and a pioneer, a conqueror for my kingdom. I gave you courage to act and wisdom and prudence to know the proper time and procedure. So just stay tuned to my signs and my incentive not to lose the place or the time of the release of my anointing. What you have sought is coming to you. Don't be afraid nor be dismayed; you have the maturity to take on. I've held your hand. You're not alone.

I'll never leave you, nor forsake you. Surely I will bless you and multiply you. You are a warrior and precious life in my hands and your struggles have resulted in victory, not only for you but for those whom you love. Don't let the lying accusations come to you. My blood justifies you and my Spirit renews you and gives you strength to new conquests. What I've reserved for you was victory and honor. I love you and care for you.

The cedars and the powerful can stand up and show up, but what has been humbly built on the Rock will never be overthrown or defeated. Wait for my work in your life, because what I gave you is solid and firm and although it started small, it will be expanded and converted into a large building. Believe in my sovereign will and you will not be ashamed, but I will make of you a great nation. I am your savior.

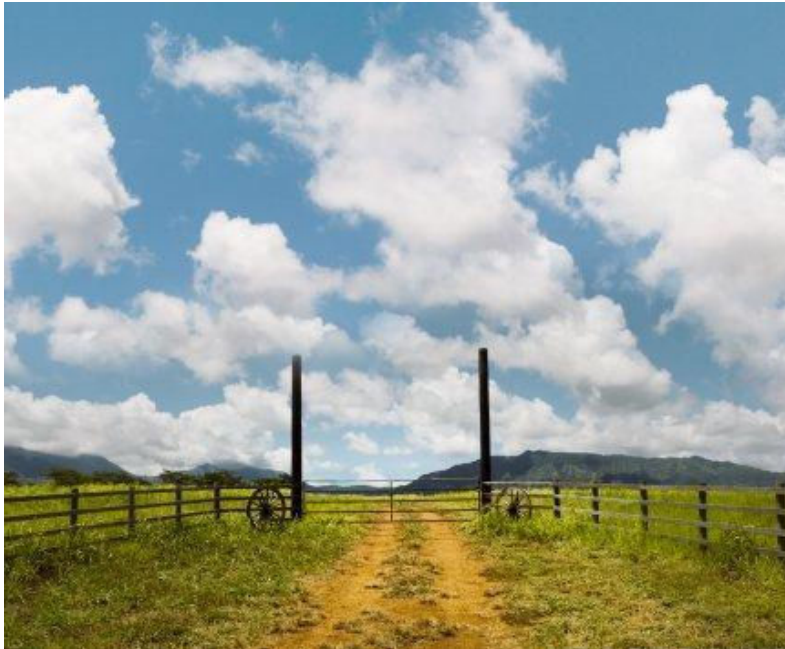

Keep faithfulness to me in your heart as a precious and strong gift, untouched and untouchable, and I will honor you before all nations. From dishonored and hated that you were, I will make you loved and object of blessing on earth. I am with you and fill you with my love that gives you courage to overcome the limits and sit on throne that I separated to be yours. Those who hated you will be away from you and those who despised and affronted you shall be ashamed before my power in your life. I love you.

Many people only watch the waters, but don't have the courage to dive in them in search of fish. Many people watch the wind; however, they are not willing to sow, so they will not reap. I didn't call you to observe my kingdom from the distance, but to face it and live it. Only then, you'll have its inheritance. Be ready to the work, pick up the plow and don't look back. Learn from my Spirit how to fight and sow and you will find the way to my throne.

As a white heron that remains vigilant and proud on the branches, remain attentive to my words and the direction of my Spirit and from the waters will come the blessing and the reward you wait for. Many seeds you cast into the waters as who does not see possibility of life, but I tell you that they were not lost. Do you remember my word? It says: "Send out your bread upon the waters, for after many days you will get it back. In the morning sow your seed, and at evening do not let your hands be idle; for you do not know which will prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good." What you plant in my kingdom has reward and return. Rejoice.

My waters and my blessings are available to all equally, but some choose to be green and fertile; others, dry and barren. Son, I've called you to leave the world and the vain things, you have heard my call; however, you're afraid to leave them. You still do not know me truly. If you knew me as I really am, you would know freedom and abundant life. In me you'll have protection and dominion over everything that has enslaved you. Make your decision today, because there is much work to be done.

What you still cannot see clearly with your eyes, but expect as a gift from me, will come to you bringing joy, clarity and certainty and what seemed barren and lifeless will be fertile and abundant. Don't worry or be afraid of what I'll bring to you, for you will feel that my promises are real and true and I am able to do immeasurably more than all that you can ask or think. I have expanded your mind and your inner vision so that you may enjoy my blessing, and although you don't realize, you are no longer the same creature as before. You will know how to manage wisely the treasure I give you.

At the end of this path there is a gate and I will make you know what there is on the other side when you have the boldness to use the key I gave you to open it. Even if the enemy has pruned your chances of advancing or growing, your roots were not plucked out and your determination was not touched. Lift up your head, then, and take the key of victory in your hands. What seemed to be threatening or a deceit no longer exists and your eyes will see the truth of what I have in store for you. Do not be afraid to risk or burst forth to the new. You will know the meaning of accomplishment.

I am with you wherever you go and my wellspring of life will keep flowing within you. Nothing will be lacking for you. You may notice that my blessings are endless, my gifts never repeat and my words never bring the same revelation or the same teachings. Every day I renew you that you may receive from me fresh oil and new anointing to gain more lives for my kingdom. Nature is an example of my abundance and my creativity. So, don't fear what is new, but spread your wings and fly high.

When you wander through places that seem gray and devoid of life, remember to look at the sky where the sun shines forever and you will recognize that my presence is important to you, that my heat warms you and that my understanding will be always illuminating your ways. What you have been through is not hidden from my eyes, but what happens is that I am waiting for your prayer, your cry and your sincere supplication to be able to act. Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

If those who are beside you prefer to ignore the challenges, don't be disturbed or be angry. Leave them in their spiritual sleep until they wake up by themselves. As for you, lift up your thoughts and your heart to me and I will give you courage and spiritual vision so that you may discern the correct path. You have acted in accordance with the guidance of my Spirit. He will take you to your safe harbor. Don't worry about your material needs. I promise you abundant supply.

Many ways seem right to men, but in the end they lead to death. Does the choice I gave you seem difficult? I would never leave you abandoned, but I respect the free will I gave you. Where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. Where is your treasure? Do you love me? Feed my lambs. Do you love me? Tend my sheep. Do you love me? Feed my sheep. Don't be afraid to exhaust your strength or your life with this work. Give your heart to me and I will heal the deformities of your way to love and the wounds that hurt you. I myself will teach you and forge you so that you learn to love with my love, without yokes, weights or manipulations. It will make you strong.

There are many colors that I have put in nature, many forms of life and many species; above all, a single purpose of cooperating to the balance of the whole. Thus I planned my Body on earth with many different gifts, each cooperating for the good of all. Why, then, do you stop my flow by human prejudice? My heart gets sad and my work becomes slow. You are kings and priests; so, release my Spirit to move freely and don't let fear and pride make my kingdom a petty thing. There is one God, one faith, one Spirit, one baptism. You are all equal before me.

My waters flow from my throne and my altar, so that my Body on earth may be blessed and fertile. I have called you to exercise the priesthood I gave you in holiness so that my waters fill you and, through you, my little ones may quench their thirsty and find the true way to seek me. Perfect yourself every day in my presence and, as I did with Abraham, I will make your offspring great and prosperous. As for your calling, don't stop nor share it with the lazy and scoffers but use the authority that I have given you and be my watchman.

Everything I take in my hands I take care so that can bear fruit and prosper. I am the true vine and you are the branches. Every branch that is in me and does not bear fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire, but every branch that is in me and bears fruit is pruned to bear even more fruit. Don't cry if I have been working with you. It's because I wish to make you a great and fruitful tree. I have only taken away your limitations so that you better can expand your branches among the nations. Fear not; your roots are strong and my waters strengthen you.

Sit on the grass and keep your spirit in my rest and you'll see the miracle of the multiplication before your eyes. Give me what is insufficient for you and keep your faith strong and I will restore to you multiplied what you have sown. Just keep in your heart the willingness to be a giver and a sower. All those who retain with them the blessings that I give, take the risk of seeing the seeds rotting in their fingers. Even if the world holds you to greed, resist and learn to invest in my kingdom.

When my Spirit leads a child of mine, He makes it a flowered and cared garden and cleans the ways so that my grace can flow. I invite you to be led by Him, so that your tears and your cry cease and my light may shine upon you again. Surrender your heart and your dreams to me and I'll show you what I can do with them. Fear not. They will be safer with me. In my hands they will not be touched by the claws of the enemy or by the envious and curious.

Stop and watch what lies ahead of you. Don't be impressed by words or by the cowardly and fearful attitudes of who is blind. Your eyes are mine and you can see what my Spirit reveals to you because I gave you good eyes. It is time of restoration, building, peace, wisdom and communion. I will bring the help you need. You will have by your side those who have good eyes. Calm your soul and cast your anxiety on me.

When you listen my voice and my call carefully and when your mouth says, 'Here I am', then you will feel truly a chosen, separate to teach my people the difference between the holy and the profane. I will make you a special vessel of honor and a leafy and fruitful tree where many will nest in its branches. Everything you do on earth affects many lives. Many are waiting for your decision, in order to be released, healed and prosperous. Come to me.

I'm the one who straightens the tortuous ways and corrects the footsteps of those I love. I am a loving Father who knows what is best for you, hence I oversee your actions and your life every day, removing the bad influences and bringing only what is pure and precious. I will give you vision and direction so that you walk safely. Fear not, you won't err.

I will go before you and level the mountains, I will break in pieces the doors of bronze and cut through the bars of iron, I will give you the treasures of darkness and riches hidden in secret places, so that you may know that it is I, the Lord, who call you by your name. Son, I have heard your cry and your tears and will send you my help breaking your chains and your shackles. It was for freedom that I set you free; do not submit again to a yoke of slavery. Wait, I'm acting.

What I have in store for my children is the best of this land, abundant barns and plentiful table. However, my kingdom is conquered through force and forceful men lay hold of it. I have given you revelations and firmed in your spirit the hope of victory. So, go ahead and conquer what is very close to you. Don't feel insecure. What I put in your heart is true and will be fulfilled.

Don't be afraid nor be dismayed for the blessings that I'll bring to you. It's for you to know that what I promised will be fulfilled and none of my words will be delayed. All of them will become reality. I guard and protect my anointed ones and evil cannot touch them. You will glorify me for the wonders and for the abundance that I will pour upon your life.

What is the advantage of seeking peace and comfort in futile things and in fleeting and deceptive pleasures? I am your true source of peace, life, prosperity and comfort. Today, if you hear my voice, don't harden your heart, but let me touch it with the deliverance it needs. If you confess your sins, I am faithful and just to forgive them and my blood cleanses you from all unrighteousness. I have new ways for you, new things that I will show you.

I give you my peace and it will never be removed from you, for it is like a well of water that refreshes those who are weary from their journey. Even though the fights seem to make you tired, you can drink from my waters whenever you need of solace and strength. The peace that I placed in you is fruit of the intimacy with me and the action of my Spirit, so the world doesn't understand because it is accustomed to have it at a different price than that I give you. Show the world how to do it. Maybe someone wants to have my peace too.

What you need to know, I will reveal it to you so that you can walk day by day where I designed. When you respond yes to my calls and my challenges, you can realize that my peace settles in your heart as a confirmation of your correct choice. Quiet down your mind and your emotions and hear my voice. You will not be confounded, because everyone who believes in me is not confounded, but gains light and eternal life. Today, receive my peace and my certainty in your heart.

Take your shovel and work the land I have set before you so that beauty may be born in it. The shovel I gave you is my Spirit and my word. Exercise it, prophesy it with faith and make your blessings come true. Don't learn the strategies of the world, but mine. Do not be careless servant, but approved worker, correctly handling the word of truth. Give your mouth to me and I'll show you what miracle is.

I have already sent my angel ahead of you to cut the evil bonds on your life and clear the paths so that you may move freely and in faith. I place a path of fire before you and everything that tries to block your path will be burned and destroyed so that it bows before my power. Don't be afraid. I'm with you and I work for your cause so that this is a week of victory in your life. My hand and my love will never depart from you and you will receive my health as a precious prize that will never be taken from you.

I'll keep you in high refuge, protected and free from attacks, from where you can observe the land you conquered. You will laugh and rejoice and praise me for the blessings I'll pour upon you. What I give you is abundant and fertile, pure and holy, peaceful and safe, because you had the courage to put the giants down. Wait on me. Your victory is near.

I am the real rock in your life, the One who firms your steps in the right ways and leads you in triumph by the holy and peaceful places. No dream can compete with my dream in your life anymore and everything that you desire you will obtain. What you have built is yours and nobody can take away, for it received my seal and my approval. Do not fear to lose what is valuable to the world, because you earn what is valuable to my kingdom. I am with you as a mighty warrior and I'll help you win. I am your shield.

Fear not, precious and beloved daughter, and I'll help you to make the important decisions that you have to make. Is not my love that guides your heart and strengthens you in your struggles? The enemy will not touch you anymore. He can roar and threaten, but is imprisoned. I send my angel to shut the lions' mouths so they don't hurt you, for innocence was found in you. I am with you. You are strong.

My abundance is undeniable and nature is proof of this. I wish to pour it on you. Just free yourself from avarice, attachment and prejudices, and I'll show you a new world where no seed dies, no offering is rejected and no dream is destroyed or aborted, but thrives and is fully accomplished. Listen to my voice in your heart today and give me your Isaac.

Mine are judgment and righteousness, mine are gold and silver, mine is love and mine is the light that I desire to shed on the hearts of all who seek me with innocence, sincerity and humility. I have sought simplicity in the midst of my people, but the barriers of religiosity prevent them from knowing my altar. Strip yourself of religiosity and formalities and come to me in a simple and innocent manner as David did.

How many have wanted to be in your place and enjoy the light that I put in you! But their hearts, instead of wishing determination, courage and perseverance, allowed themselves to be refuge for jealousy and envy. Fear not. I stretch my hand of power now unfastening every tie of envy, jealousy, division and contention over your life, so that you may know the blessing of true freedom. Forever I will be your God.

Preserve your heart in purity, simplicity and innocence and I will show you that in them there is strength to overcome all darkness. Many are armed and clothe themselves with armor, but remain defeated, because they become heavy and take upon themselves the wrong armors, not those of the light. Be filled with my Spirit and disarm yourself of the worldly armor. My armor is light and will allow you to move around with skill in the midst of struggles. It's called love.

My daughter, I rebuke evil with my mighty hand so that it no longer desolates your garden or destroys the temple you have built in your spirit as my dwelling place. I gave you power and authority over all the power of the enemy and nothing will harm you. Lift up your eyes to heaven and see my light on you filling you with peace and understanding to know my ways. I am your Savior. I shed my blood for you on the cross so you could be exclusively mine.

People will respect you, for they will see something new and real in you. You fear losing respect of them for having handed me over the position you had; however, calm your heart. The glory of this present house will be greater than of the former. The respect and admiration that you will receive will be no longer for wearing a mask, but for showing yourself fearlessly as you are. Wait, trust me and you will have confirmation of what I say.

You will learn the joy and the peace as a newness of life and the simplicity that you have been seeking will become part of it. My wisdom and simplicity will open the ways that were closed before and the flow of my Spirit will be easier. It will be the major factor of transformation and changing in those who are walking with you. They will want my light and my freedom and they will see that it is possible, because that's what I did with you.

Fear not, I'm with you. I'll teach you to rule with wisdom over what I gave you, for I stretched my own mantle on you. Those who rest in its shade will also have life and will prosper and will recognize the leadership that I gave to you. They will be an instrument of help and support for your work and you will feel strong. Fear not, daughter, I received your request and I will do according to your faith. No longer will fear, anxiety and insecurity invade your heart. It is I who destroy all pride and arrogance.

I will exalt you before those who humiliated you and your shame I will transform into double honor. I will not walk away from you and where you go, I will go; where I go you will go also. You shall go to all to whom I send you, and you shall speak whatever I command you. Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you to deliver you and I put my words in your mouth. No longer will you be confused with false wisdom, from within you will flow my true wisdom and guidance and all will see my presence and my seal on you. They will want to learn from you.

I judge your right and your cause. I sit on my throne and judge righteously. When my enemies turn back, they stumble and perish at my presence. I uphold you and keep your heart so that nothing else comes to compete with me or with my purpose. I clean your heart of everything that makes you feel impure. You found out the cause of your sadness and drove out evil with faith and determination. Therefore, I will honor you and put you in your place, for I already have a place prepared for you.

Through your life and your work, my people will learn to live in community and exercise my love. Many will have their attitudes changed by your words and by your acts of love and faith. The coldness, hatred and indifference of the world will no longer touch you, and your soul will no longer be sad by the sin of others, for I will multiply those who have been touched by my repentance and decided to leave the old sinful nature to receive the true life. I will bring them to you and you will rejoice in new births.

Your garden will always have new flower beds, new trees and shrubs sprouting and growing and you will teach your brothers to work the land I have put them so that they may be co-workers in my field. I need workers for my harvest. I will find them and they will come to learn from you through your testimony of life. Fear not. I'll let no weight or yoke come to you, for I freed you. I am God of deliverance, not bondage.

I made retreat the weapons of war against you and I opened your ways lest there are no more stumbling blocks in your life. The only stones in it, the only rocks which will remain it is me, your Lord, and your landmarks of victory. All the old landmarks placed by the enemy no longer exist. From now on, I will build my work upon this Rock and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it because it is important part to my church.

Keep my words forever in your heart until the end of your life, for they will firm your steps and keep your spirit ever young and thirsty to grow and learn from me. It's I who hold you with my strong and powerful hands and put in your heart the desire to serve me and accomplish my will here on earth. You came till here, because I was with you. Did the tests seem hard? But that's how I form my kings and my warriors. Now nothing will be impossible for you. Nobody will be able to resist you all the days of your life.

It is I that fills all things with my presence. In this place of which you say that is desolate, without inhabitants, human or animal, there shall once more be heard the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride and the voices of those who sing, as they bring thank offerings to the house of the Lord, for I will restore the fortunes of the land as at first. I will restore you and heal your wounds. The house will be inhabited as formerly, and your seed shall be established before me. Your life is in my hands and what I have for you is ransom and restoration.

You have had experiences with me, and saw that when you give what's old, a new color appears to your life, showing you that I make everything new and beautiful. My yoke is easy, my burden light and you will learn that the work for me is a constant source of joy and learning, and when you face some fight you will no longer be hurt, but will experience the taste of victory, because you have discovered my strength within you. Everything will be very clear in your life.

From the rock in the desert I made spring up waters that quenched the thirst of my people and made them regain their strength. I am the true Rock in your life and from within me living waters will always flow to restore and relieve you. Your work, likewise, will be a solid and strong rock, because I myself built it and from it living waters will flow to bring the dismayed and distressed back to life. Don't be afraid, you're not alone. I have helped you marvelously and I will make you strong, free and happy.

I have never given you any revelation that made you stumble or stagnate. But all I gave you were for you to know me better and build the beautiful in your life and in the lives of your brothers. Seek me always. Call to me and I will answer you, and will tell you great and unsearchable things that you do not know, because I reveal deep and hidden things. I know what lies in darkness and light dwells with me. I am the true light in your life. Forever I will be your God.

The same way I gave Samuel the anointing of prophet, I keep it over your life and my Spirit will speak through you. Do not fear, because your mouth is my domain and, as I did with Samuel, my word will not fall to the ground, but will prosper and bear fruit of peace and justice. Quiet your heart and be strong in my power. Fill yourself with my Spirit and He will enlighten and guide you.

I've loved and protected you and I will always love and protect you, because I made a covenant with you and it will never be removed. I gave you a land and you conquered it. Does it lack a color? Does it lack flowers? Continue to sow and care for it and soon the flowers will appear, for I promised you the best. What tied you and affronted you will no longer come upon you because you found out who you are and who is in your heart. The one who is in you is greater than the one who is in the world.

Now you know who you truly are and can rest in the land you conquered. It will not be taken from you anymore, but it will be visited and enriched by the gifts that will be brought to you, gifts worthy of kings. But be always vigilant, managing with wisdom and justice, firmly planted in my word, because I gave you authority over the earth and over the spiritual world.

Don't worry about those who do not want to grow, because I smoothen the way only of those who wish to follow me and surrender to my will. Do you think I do not hear or watch you? But I search you and know your heart. I know you and watch you as a loving and protective father so that nothing may harm you. I care for you and protect you. I supply, feed and fill you with my Spirit of life.

I will guard you forever with me and my waters will flow from my altar to keep your wellspring always full. I'll use you with power to fulfill my sovereign will in your life and nothing will be lacking for you. Never again will I give your grain as food for your enemies, and never again will foreigners drink your wine, fruit of your labors, but what you will build and plant will be for you and your children. You will never feel thirst, because I will fill you continually and my waters will also flow from within you to quench the thirst of those who walk with you.

I am the Lord who took you out of Egypt and brought you unto a land flowing with milk and honey. So, look at what is before you and praise me, for you will no longer remember of your sorrows and pains, but will experience the joy of seeing the fruit of the seeds you planted. Wait on me, I'm acting. My hands are not shrunk. On the contrary, are actively working to bring my blessings to your barns. You belong to me.

Don't look at the dry leaves or worry about them anymore. They needed to be removed from the tree because they had no more life. But as of today, I renew your leaves and with my wind I blow away those who fell and I clean your land. Your heart is new and changed and I put in it my hopes and dreams so that it can be a generator of life. It belongs to me. I have it in my hands. Do not fear. I love you and I am with you.

You are precious life in my hands and you will no longer oscillate between two ways. My Spirit helped you make the right decision and choose the path of light and justice. Don't be afraid, for you will not suffer shame. Do not fear disgrace; you will not be humiliated. For you will spread out to the right and to the left; your descendants will dispossess nations. I will establish you in the heights; I have given to your feet the quickness of a deer and I trained your hands for war. As pen of a skilled scribe, the praise will flow from your lips.

The sound and the song of victory will always accompany you on your journey, for it is the song of the brave and the winners. My angels will sing with you and your brothers will be strengthened by it and will grow in stature before me. The voice of weeping and of crying will no longer be heard in you because I did not plan you to captivity but to freedom. I'm still acting and clearing your ways. I removed the revolt from your life and made you know my peace and solace. Look at you with my eyes, and see my crown and my robe over you.

Those who tried to interrupt or hinder your ways will be ashamed to see that your loyalty and your perseverance made you won the victory. They will see that your vineyard was planted and is beginning to bear fruit, for my own Spirit watered it, making it prevail. Who, then, can stop your walk? I have set guards in your vineyard and around your walls so that the foxes no longer invade it. They will guard you and your land and I'll remain with my hand on your head so that you never again cease to be blessed.

Do not be afraid or be dismayed. My powerful blessing is coming to your life and beneath my shadow you will be sheltered. You will no longer weep from pain or sorrow, but I will fill your mouth with laughter and your lips with joy. You found out that I do not put new wine in old wineskins or a patch of new cloth on an old garment. I renewed your wineskin and gave you new garments to bear the anointing of my Spirit. Fear not, I'm with you. I keep holding your hand and strengthening you.

My sun of righteousness will continue to shine on your life and it will be clearer than noonday. You will no longer feel doubts or uncertainties, because I make you see clearly what I designed for you. Soon your hands, your eyes and your ears will touch, see and hear the sounds, the colors and the texture of personal achievement that I promised you and you will be recognized for what you are, no longer for what they wanted you to be. Wait for the work of my Spirit, for it is almost finished, and you shall fly the flag of your victory.

Those who are by your side will be influenced, freed and transformed by the change that occurred in your own life and the path you have chosen. Your decision will open their eyes to see that all things are possible to him who believes in me and they can pass on to others your testimony of life, so that they have their faith increased and their inner potential awakened. You will rejoice to see the light burning in the heart of each one.

There is a time for every matter under heaven; and the wise mind will know the time and way. You have known my time in your life. Remain under the guidance of my Spirit and all things will fit perfectly bringing you fulfillment, liberation and victory. When I act, who can prevent? My word has already been released. Who will turn it back? Arise, shine, for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord rises upon you. Darkness covers the earth, and thick darkness is over the peoples, but the Lord rises upon you, and his glory appears over you. It is time of new heavens and new earth.

Daughter! I know every detail of what you have in your heart as a dream that you wish to see accomplished, and I take personal responsibility for it to come alive and be a blessing to others. Continue to seek my presence and do not let your heart be troubled with irrational and selfish attitudes of those who surround you. I am your refuge and fortress and I am exalted in you. You are precious life in my hands and the closer you are to me, the more I will fill you with strength and faith. Believe in victory and in peace. I am with you.

Daughter, I open doors before you that shall never be closed and I pour upon you the anointing of boldness and conquest for peace to be established in your ways and in your temple. Didn't I command you? Be strong and courageous, because I will be with you wherever you go. I remove with my mighty hand what has been an obstacle in your way and it will touch you no more, and I'll show you the secret and the mystery you wish to see revealed so that your heart rejoices in the achievement of your dreams. Wait on me, it will not tarry and will not fail, for I am God of all flesh and all souls are mine. I move them all in your favor. You are my beloved.

Wait on me, precious and beloved daughter and I will grant the desires of your heart. Today is the day of your rest in me, for today I work in your favor by ways unknown to you, but that will be revealed for you to pass. I cleaned the discord of your heart and the roots of bitterness, so that you may show my true love to my people. I'll be with you. Trust and feel safe.

What has worried your heart is already in my hands and having release to a good end. Don't be fooled, and look up to my light that is shed on you. Open your ears and hear the flow of the waters from my throne, breaking the chains of bondage. Sleep in peace. I take care of your sleep. Be still and know that I am God and do justice on earth. Everyone who hears my voice has the light of truth increased in the heart and knows how to conduct his life by the ways of peace. I clear and disentangle your ways and firm your steps along the paths I already traced to you. Throw down the giants and take possession of the land. It belongs to you.

Wait for my work and the end of this story, because I have separated a new way for you and it is path of peace and holiness, only for my saints, for my redeemed, and the unclean shall not pass through it. There will be no wild beast in it, but only peace and joy. I pour upon you the waters of my Spirit and this week you will feel as a new creature. You have reached what you thought impossible to reach, for you saw that everything is possible with me. Can I not give you even more than you think or dream? Wait on me and rest your heart; while my beloved ones sleep I provide for.

You'll learn to live peace, joy, love, communion and the abundant life I created for those who serve me. Get used to the freedom that gave you, with the large land that I created for you, and believe in my protection around you and in the strength of my Spirit. What you long for, you will receive, because I take care of your paths. I am well pleased in the sincerity of heart. Everything is possible for him who believes. I keep holding your hand tightly and directing your actions so that you feel safe. I know you trust in me and I will honor your trust and faith. Continue to bear fruit, because everything you do for me with love is transformed and multiplied. For if the willingness is there, the gift is acceptable according to what one has, not according to what one does not have, that's what my word says. I love you and care for you.

I've seen your ways and will heal them, giving peace, not only for you but for those who walk with you. Do not be afraid, I made you strong so that you remain firm in the paths that I set for you. Keep believing in my will for your life. Ask me what you wish and will be done to you. I will move in your favor and clear away your path of those who try to retain your blessings. Reject the lies and deceptions. What I have put in you is the truth.

Trees and shrubs are all different from each other, but they harmonize to beautify the whole, for it is the love for my creation that keep them interacting and cooperating. Each one takes care of himself and gives his best for the community. It is possible to have love and cooperation among my children, for it is the dream of my heart from eternity, so my Son came to earth and died on the cross. What I put in your heart is not fantasy, it is mission of victory and success, and the light and strength that emerge from this achievement will show a new flame to the world. Don't worry if are many or few who will accept it, because nothing can hinder the Lord from saving, whether by many or by few. A drop or a small flame of my love is strong enough to destroy an army and some flames burning in some sincere hearts will be enough to carry out my project. I keep preparing your travel companions. Only believe, for I myself will schedule the meeting and it will be a great day of rejoicing in heaven. It will be quick and unexpected, to catch the enemy by surprise and make it impossible for him to act and lay snares. I myself will frustrate his evil plans. I protect you and love you.

In calm and peaceful waters it's developed the propitious environment for interaction, true love and mutual cooperation, which stimulate the growth and multiplication of the good seeds planted. In an environment where the potentials are awakened, developed and used there is no shortage of anything, only the joy of exchanging and blessing. The joy of the freedom of action is the creative force that cooperates to the improvement of the whole and to emotional and spiritual growth, approaching my children through the Spirit and shaping them to the image of Him who created them. Don't fear to dare, don't be afraid to show and perform your potential, don't be afraid to interact with your fellow men, don't fear to do gladly the work I gave you, because it is infinite blessing that will lead many lives to knowledge and growth. Don't fear differences of opinion and don't fear the free will that I gave men to choose their own ways. Above all, do not carry burdens because what I designed for you was just to sow the holy seed. Use wisdom and prudence that will teach you to keep the peace and unity. Those who share the same goal of holiness will be around you; the rest will remain at a distance until they have the courage to fight for the conquest of their own land. True love around you is what will maintain your land protected and at peace.

When you want to talk to me, there is a place in my heart waiting for you. I'm here. Why do you cry, as if you miss whom you don't see for so long? I hear your dreams and your petitions the same way I hear the beating of your heart, because I'm inside you. What you are going through will end and you will really feel that I am real and I will never forsake you. You're talking to me, so I fill you with my presence and I heal your pains. While you wait for those who you wish, I keep you company. I'll always do. Nothing can take away the peace that you experience now, or the love that I poured on you to confirm that I am your God and friend. Keep trusting in my sovereign will for your life and you will live every day the true peace of who knows that is guided, guarded and protected by a bigger and better Father. Wait on me, daughter, your dream will not tarry. Live by faith. I see and search everything. I made you strong and evil will not reach you or touch you.

All that you long for, you will achieve, because the dreams I put in your heart are eternal. I am a God of purpose and all the experiences I give to my children are to take them to the knowledge of my will and my power. I'll open over you the upper springs and the lower springs so that my heavenly kingdom is manifest on earth and seen by men. Hence, I said in my word, "You are the light of the world. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." I'll be your helper and will open the ways before you.

It may seem to you that you follow a path, cared and guided, but you can't see where it leads, or see its end. Don't fear, for my thoughts concerning you are not for evil, but for peace, and I will not keep my mysteries forever. Soon the road will be widened ahead of you and you will see it no more from the side, but from the front, and what you see will fill your eyes with joy at the abundant table and the sown and flowering field before you. Then you will understand the meaning of your surrender and of the stones on the way. You will really glorify me, and the expression of gratitude in your mouth will be no longer a sacrifice of praise of those who exercise faith, but the real expression of the heart that can feel the taste of accomplishment. Quiet down your mind and your heart. The revelations that you search and need to walk, I'll give them to you in a clear and firm manner, free of any shadow of doubt. I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go; I will counsel you with my eye upon you.

Ask and will be given to you; seek and you shall find; knock and the door will be open; because everyone who asks, receives; he who seeks finds and to he who knocks, will be open to him. Through your prayer and your search you conquered free access to my heart, for you were sanctified and justified by the blood of my Son. Through the experiences I gave you, you could learn that many blessings requires a greater effort, the perseverance that needs to be exercised day by day. But what you achieved until now will not be taken from you. Teach others to ask, seek and knock for them to know the path of blessing. So, they shall also achieve intimacy with me. Many souls still need to be blessed by my word. What I gave you is seed of life. Teach your brothers to sow too, thus the harvest will be cared and will thrive. There will be no closed doors to the warriors of the faith and love. On the contrary, their perseverance and courage will open the doors of the blessings and free many from prisons. My angels obey my word and will perform what you determine with faith and authority. Nothing will be impossible to you.

Do not be afraid nor be dismayed, for the path by which I lead you is flat and of peace. It is I that removes the obstacles so you can always walk safely. By obeying my word, you'll be treading on safe ground and everything you need to know I will reveal to you. Keep holding my hand. What I put in you is free to flow and be manifested, because the gifts I gave you are generators of life. Many people may try to hinder your walk or envy your determination, but don't stop. Remain firm and conquer every day the land that I set before you. Your mouth is my domain. The praise, the teaching, the word of healing that I gave you are powerful weapons to free my chosen ones. Your faith has great reward for me and it'll show the unbelievers that I am a real and living God. What I put in your heart is a fountain of life and will not dry up. Don't care about the opinions of men, because only those who keep communion with me can understand what you do. I am with you.

I have for my people the promise that they will dwell in quiet places, in peaceful dwellings, and I will fulfill it in all those who let to be touched by the transforming power of my Spirit. In the past, I said that the day of my sanctuary to dwell among you would come, not in houses made by human hands, but in hearts, on tablets of flesh, not of stone. I fulfilled my promise when I sent my Son to earth and when I left my Spirit within you. You are my sanctuary and the glory of this present house will be greater than of the former, when you were in the world. If thus I promised regarding your inner sanctuary, can I not accomplish it regarding the smaller things, material ones, whose control is in my hands? So don't let your thoughts or your feelings be troubled. I promised to prepare a place for you and it will be so. I am your God. Don't be afraid, only believe.

My Son is the cornerstone, elected and precious, that I placed among those who believe. He is the landmark of a new covenant made with my people. That covenant remains faithful and I did it with you. I will never leave you nor forsake you. I'll be with you so that you are a living witness of my power among men. You are settled on the Rock and what you have built until now will not be destroyed or stolen, because it was I who helped you. I'll make of you a repairer of broken walls. Only, believe in my promise and give me your heart completely. Don't be afraid to devote yourself to me. You will not lose anything, but you'll gain true life. The torch of the Spirit will be lit to never be quenched and I'll make you know the heights that only kings and priests know. I am the Lord of your life and everything that I take you to live is for my love for you.

In serenity and in peace you will know my truth to your life. Only I can give the solace and the rest to your soul, because you have free access to my throne and you can drink of my waters every day. I'll take you to minister to a few thirsty lives and you will feel the fulfillment that you seek so much, because among them you will feel accepted and free. You are precious life to me, and the power to perform miracles is available for you when you exercise your faith in my Son. I made and planned you to break the chains of bondage and the natural limits. Many people will just believe me when they see miracles. You will be honored by those who despised you before, for they will see my light in you. I prepared moments of joy and gladness for you in the midst of my people. Don't be afraid, you will not be ashamed or humiliated. I am your strong wall. What seemed impossible I will make it possible, for it is time of blessing and restoration. Many have been transformed by your seeds. Soon you will see the fruit. You have no idea of how many are being achieved through you! Just believe and sow.

I am standing at the door, knocking; if you hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to you and eat with you, and you with me. I'm at your door. I have knocked and waited for your voice inviting me to come in. I am different from all that you let enter there. I bring peace and rest, life and abundance. I restore, strengthen and give back what was stolen and lost. When you hear my voice, don't harden your heart, but acknowledge my light and my truth. Be brave and accept the challenge that I offer you today. The fights will come, but I'll be by your side to help you win. And every enemy that you win, you will not see anymore. With each victory, you'll have increased in your heart the trust in me and you'll have true knowledge of who I am. Those who came before me were thieves and bandits. I am the Good Shepherd and you are sheep of my pasture. I am the door. Enter through me and you will find pasture. I'm faithful to what I say and I will remain faithful to you. Today I want to make a true covenant with you. Open your heart to my call. Your time has come; it's your turn now.

Be strong and take courage. Do not fear or be dismayed. I will go before you and show the way. Give me the fear and your cry will stop. I know what you suffer and I will incline my face to you. My hands take care of you, the enemy will not withstand. I'm with you every day and my love and my power will free you from all snares and all ties. When you wake up in the morning remember me first and look at the light of my face. Praise me and my Spirit will pour upon you the anointing for your day so that you may leave home under my blessing. When you go to your job, remember that I went ahead of you to prepare everything, and give yourself to me as an instrument of deliverance and light. When you arrive there, greet the house with my peace. If there's a son of peace in that place, my peace will rest on him. If not, it will return to you. Don't be afraid to be what you truly are, do not be afraid to show others that you are a child of the Most High, for you are strong wall and the arrows will not hit you. My angel encamps around you and frees you. While you work, do it with love, as for me, not for men. It's me you serve. And when you leave, deliver me with joy the fruit of your day. So I'll protect your way back and you will rest safely and quietly under my wings.

Wherever my river flows there's healing and life. Fruitful trees grow on both banks of this river. It's my river of living water that I desire to see flowing from your heart to those around you. Wherever you go will go. Where I placed you, you will be a reference and a beacon for the needy, the sick of spirit and for the lost and aimless. Don't be afraid; don't run away from your challenges. I promised you peace, victory and solace. Remember, however, that in my kingdom these blessings are conquered through effort, fidelity and surrender to me. The path has seemed narrow, but I know what I do; it's path of life. I myself will enlarge it in due time for you to see that your sowing and your fights for justice were worthwhile. The weak don't pass the tests, only the strong and daring go through them and achieve victory and the throne that I prepared for them to sit. I made you strong. Walk and rely on my love.

Daughter! Often it seems to you that your paths lead you to closed doors and places empty and devoid of beauty. Maybe it's because you have walked alone without my presence. My word says, "There is a way that seems right to a man, but in the end it leads to death." Perhaps, the paths you have walked have led you to frustration, depression and deceit and have made you waste your time with something useless and empty. Stop, now, where you are and lift your eyes to my light. I'll hear your cry and will walk beside you to redo your walking. I do new things every day. I transform, restore and give life to everything. Hold my hand and you will see my care for you. You are precious to me and I don't lose anyone the Father gave me. You are mine and today I take the reins of your carriage. I'll teach you to drive it and I'll take you to a land flowing with milk and honey. Before you were born I swore that I would rescue you if you sought me. Today you seek me and I will fulfill my promise.

I wish to lead you by brooks of pure and crystalline waters. And you will only find this brook through contact and intimacy with my Spirit. When you open your mouth and speak what is in your heart, these waters begin to flow and flood the dry places of your life. You feel lonely and seek other lives that understand your actions and your will, but remember it was I who made you and I know you more than any of your brothers. Open your mouth and your heart to me. I am invisible, but real. I want to hear you and I wish to speak to you. Don't fear to come closer to my throne. The blood of my Son justifies you. If you confess your sins I forgive you, and my blood purifies you from all unrighteousness. Don't let your heart be troubled or let the guilt and fear prevent you from receiving my blessings. I yearn for the contact with my children. Receive my love, and trust in my will for you and you will find the true freedom.

There is always a bridge to walk and a Jordan River and a Red Sea to cross in order to conquer the precious places I reserved for my saints. When my anointed ones are truly willing to reign, I myself will help them to overcome the obstacles that once seemed insurmountable. So teach your brothers to persevere and awaken in them the boldness to conquer. Thus, you will find encouragement to live and do my work. If my people who are called by my name humble themselves, pray, seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land. Your testimony is valuable to revive my people. Don't lose heart nor grieve, but look with joy at the fruit that have already been born from the work that was done for you up to now. I carried you in my arms and I will continue to carry you, to protect and guide you.

All I have planned for my children will come to them when they learn to conquer with faith what they wish and to learn to give their hearts one hundred percent to me. When the hearts of my people are really in my hands, they will take possession of their land, because I myself will already have sanctified and strengthened them. Daughter, I have heard your cry on behalf of my people, so do not weep or despair, because it is I who moves, breaking the yokes and the strongholds and convincing the hardened hearts to turn back to me. Your prayer has gone up to my throne and I have already answered. I know that you yearn for unity and love. I know that you care for the mission that I gave you and I promise you victory. Your work is not in vain, the harvest will be abundant and joyful, because the words I have put in your mouth have touched your brothers' hearts. Walk in faith, I am with you and guard you.

The king's heart is a stream of water in my hands; I turn it wherever I will. That's my word to all those who are willing to reign. Only those who are willing to be my servants can reign. Your thoughts and your heart are in my hands, so fear not. I will guide them in accordance with my desire, to lead you to victory and self-control. In your eyes, many things seem wrong, but I turn curse into blessing. Learn from the experiences you have lived. It is to reveal the potential that I put in you and to remove all insecurity from your life. Son, I have great projects for you in the area that put you and right there you shall be a great sower for my kingdom. I distribute all the gifts according to my will. So, discover the ones I gave you and exercise them. Thus you will know me better. Remember my word, "The glory of the Lord is to conceal things, but the glory of kings is to search things out." In searching my treasures your strength will increase. Persevere.

You have cried for peace and light in your ways, so I bring today the word of truth to your heart and that will put you before a choice. Only one path will lead you to the peace and the light that you desire. Don't fear. I myself will help you to choose. You can no longer stand between two options. One of them leads to holiness and victory. The other is a path of destruction. You already know what is right; however, you have fear of surrender and you doubt where this path leads. I am the way, the truth and the life. Do you doubt where it is going? I am the one who guides you. When I make you lose something, it's because it is no longer useful to you and has hindered your growth. I have much more to give you and restore. You have to look through the eyes of the spirit, because the eyes of the flesh deceive you. Do you want me to touch your eyes today? I'm in front of you and my hands are stretched. I want to hear your voice saying, "Lord, I want to see again." You will be surprised with what I can do in your life.

I am waiting for you to a long conversation. It's frank talk that brings comfort, revelation, truth and freedom. Don't behave like others who see me, but pass afar, straying from my path. I separated this moment for you, for you are special to me. I have watched and called you. I wish to invite you to a party where my table is plentiful and is eternally laid for those who wish to have fellowship and communion with me. My word is the true food for your soul and will never end. You have heard lying words that have taken your peace and brought doubt and uncertainty to your heart. But don't fear. Today, I have word of life and truth that will bring you deliverance and will light your ways. Take some time for both of us and you'll have an experience unlike anything you have lived until now. Do you believe in me? So, accept the challenge and I will not frustrate your dreams or sadden your heart. Instead, I will fill you with joy, peace and security.

When I act, who can prevent it? Who can block the path of my sons when they position themselves as ambassadors of my kingdom? Look ahead and you will see the finish line. Your walk has seemed long and difficult, but was useful learning, so you can receive the crown that I have for you. You're not alone. I surround you behind and before, and put my hand upon you. What I have put in your heart is real. It will never be stolen or distorted, because my seal is on it. Don't cry for what you cannot change or for the hardness of spirit that you see in your day to day. I take care of these lives. Open your eyes to see those who have been drinking from the waters that flow from within you, and be glad by the fruit that are being born in such humble hearts. So, you will know that your work for me was not in vain.

It is necessary to value the small inner achievements of your day to day, no matter what or who is around you. Often, some seem to grow quickly and reach the heights that they determined for themselves; that's why they mock those who are slow to grow. However, they forget that the final goal is what matters: fortitude, solidity, deep roots, inner structure to achieve greater heights and ability to reign. Those who understand the quality of seed that they have inside themselves continue to grow in obedience to their own internal pace, using meekness and patience until they are ready to show the world their superiority and solidity, acquired for a price, and now are undeniable and unshakable. The sun, the rain, the strong winds do not move them or pluck them of their place. What looked like an 'ugly duckling' is, today, someone able to lead because was prepared with patience and experience. It is his meekness and temperance the example that keeps the others united in love, overcoming the barriers of anxiety, envy, comparison and competition. He no longer cares about the probability of someone growing more than him, because he belongs to another kind of seed. He knows that sky is the infinite which opens to everyone the possibility to reach the heights, but it is the inner limit that will determine the degree of growth of each one.

Many men and women of God have heard His call and responded to it promptly. We see in the bible that God called people to perform specific tasks. He called one to give an example of faith. Another, to go ahead his family and establish a place for them to dwell. Also another to be the deliverer of the people from their captivity. Another, also, to be a priest. Another, yet, to lead the Israelite nation to conquer the Promised Land. Another one to fight the wars of the Lord and unify His people. Another son to build the temple for the living God, and so on. But what we see as central and basic feature in all of them was the surrender and the submission to Lord's will. So, when God calls us and talk to us, we should hear what He has to say, we should answer yes, trust in His provision and empowerment, and receive His teaching with joy.

I hope you have enjoyed these messages and meditated on them, achieving growth and transformation within yourself. Your attitudes influence many around you, so keep firm in your walk with God and take these words of encouragement, strength, joy, comfort and exhortation to the needy and indecisive, so that they can respond confidently to the divine call and may be happy and blessed.

"The Lord bless and keep you. The Lord make his face shine upon you and be gracious to you; the Lord lift up his countenance upon you, and give you peace." (Num. 6: 24-26)
