FROM FATHER TO SON

Ministério Seara Ágape
Estudo Bíblico Evangélico

Pastor Tânia Cristina Giachetti
São Paulo – SP – Brazil – 2007

I thank the Father for adopting us as sons and granting us the right to stand before His altar to hear His voice of comfort, authority, encouragement, safety, approval and love.

This book is dedicated to all those who seek the Lord's presence, and above all, to know His sovereign will for their lives and, fearlessly, proclaim His word of truth among men.

Introduction

This is one more book of prophetic messages that the Lord gave me, when standing before His throne was not only a privilege, but also a great responsibility because of the strong words of authority that flowed as an exhortation to His children. It also brings messages of edification and comfort to those who need to hear His voice.

I hope you receive these messages and, if they are not directly for you, the Lord Himself will use you to take them to whom they belong.

May God bless you, awaken your gift and revive your ministry. May the peace of the Lord be upon you!

Tânia Cristina

“Then a cloud overshadowed them, and from the cloud there came a voice, ‘This is my Son, the Beloved; listen to him!’” (Mk,9: 7)

“If my people, who are called by my name, humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. I’ve been waiting for the humility of my children in repenting of what they have done. They praise me externally, but their hearts are not really turned to obey me and do my will. So, I’ve called you to be a watchman in my own House, where jealousy and provocation are undermining the innocence and purity of my work. Don’t look back, pick up the plow and sow the word of truth among those who are mine, even if you dwell among scorpions and snakes. Soon they will see the light of my word which will never fall to the ground, but will be fulfilled, to show everyone that I’m still God in heaven and on earth and hold all the power. My people have played with my words; have made my House a place of entertainment for the flesh, not a place of seriousness where my warriors are willing to fight my battles. There are many weeds sown among of my wheat, because they left aside the vigilance to behave like children tossed to and fro and blown about by every wind of doctrine. Arise and get ready to be my mouth among men. Remind my people to obey my commandments and keep my truth in your heart as a seal that will protect you from all attacks and affronts. I am your strong wall and will keep you so that you can carry out the mission I gave you with faith, confidence and success. Don’t care about the rebels and cowards who try to hurt my Spirit through unbelief, irreverence and arrogance, talking about what they don’t understand. Not everyone who says to me ‘Lord, Lord!’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father.”

“You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, with your mind and with all your strength. You shall love your neighbor as yourself. My commandments to my Church, to my bride, will remain the same until my coming. I want to see my children really engaged with me and my work, because there is much to be done yet. I wait for a firm and decisive stand of my servants against all division and contention that has devastated my flock. Throw away the enemy’s prostitutions and the works of the flesh that bring stains to your clothes; mainly, let gossip and disputes, for they are no part of my kingdom. I look for simple and humble hearts that understand and execute my will with love and dedication. Leave aside greed, for it has limited your affections and the little ones have felt the thirst for wisdom and knowledge of my word. Abandon prejudices, because they bring a complete lack of unity. Many leave my House without being fed. There, it’s a place of refuge, where the ones that I separated for shepherding must be true shepherds and give the best nourishment to my lambs through prayer and compassion. My House is a house of prayer, where I look for deep contact with the afflicted and wounded in soul that need my balm. Throw away the religiosity and teach the smallest to search in my altar the true answers for their lives. I planned my Body on earth to exercise mutual cooperation through the gifts that my Spirit has ministered. Why do you stop my flow by human prejudice? My heart gets sad and my work becomes slow. You are kings and priests; so, release my Spirit to move freely and do not let fear and pride make my kingdom a petty thing. There is one God, one faith, one Spirit, one baptism. You are all equal before me. Only in me there is peace.”

“When you want to please me, first check if you have complied with all my commandments, for the house where you are fed is a barn that belongs to me, and my altar is a place of reverence where faith, love, sincerity and obedience are the biggest offerings I can wish of someone’s heart. Cry out before those who deny the supply to my children, because by the selfishness of their hearts, many end up perishing, not so much of bread, but of my word. I have desired to shed more understanding on my people; so, prepare the ground ahead of me, sowing constantly my exhortation so that the hearts may open to my revelation. All I can do for those who are faithful to me, but I also can break down all pride and all flesh so that my Spirit prevails in the hearts of the humble sheep, so that my work does not perish. Don’t try to live as the world lives, don’t run after what has no value; however, seek the values of my kingdom with all your soul. I want to use you for bigger and deeper things but before this, your heart needs to be touched by my healing.”

“Don’t flee from my presence, nor fly away from my hands as Jonah did. Don’t think that by delaying the execution of my will you will be free from my hands. It is I who works in you, enabling you both to will and to work. You have heard my call, you have heard my voice urging you to change your life but you resist for fear of trials. I take care of everyone I call; therefore, respond positively to my challenges and you will see that my plans for you are plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope. There are no shortcuts in my kingdom. The entire path must be followed to the end to receive the crown and scepter that I reserve for my kings. I don’t delight on cowards or quitters, nor disobedient or rebels, but my righteous one will live by faith. My soul takes no pleasure in anyone who shrinks back. When you understand the reality of my desire for you, then you’ll feel the freedom you search and you’ll fly high, not far from me, but where I send you on the wings of my Spirit.”

“Daughter, don’t be sitting and idle, thinking that things will change in your life automatically, without effort on your part. Remember that my Son died on the cross and paid a high price for your soul. All blessings have a price to be paid. Often, you search help in people who know nothing of the difficulties of your walk or the pains of your heart. Therefore, cry out to me with your faith, as the blind believed and cried for mercy. Cry out to me with all your heart and I will hear you. I’ll set you free and I will show you a new life, where the accusations will no longer come over you and where anything that you built with love will never be stolen or destroyed. Turn your eyes to heaven and seek my face; its light will illuminate and guide you. The light is my living word that is at your disposal. Don’t be looking at it as a book of stories or fairy tales. Leave aside the fantasies of children and pick up the plow. Don’t look back. Who picks up the plow and looks back cannot be my disciple. Make your choice today, because I’m in front of you, waiting for your cry asking, ‘Lord, I want to see.’”

“My son, if you want true life and to see resurrected in you the love that you felt one day, come back to my ways and I will bring you back to the inexhaustible spring of life that flows from my throne. I know you have struggled to regain what you lost, but remember that without me you can do nothing. Seek me with all your heart, resume your covenant with me and I’ll show you that you are more than conqueror. The gift is irrevocable. Even though it seems to have been stolen from you, cry out to me and I’ll teach you how to revive it. Nothing can separate you from me. Confess me as your only Lord and Savior and firm yourself in this covenant till the end of your life. I will never leave you, nor forsake you.”

“I am a God of covenants, and sincere and lasting commitments, so I have called you to my presence, my children, so that you may know my plan for your life that will lead you to inner growth and spiritual fructification. Leave aside the carnal individual desires and think as a single being. My Spirit is in your midst like a threefold cord that will never break and will make you overcome all the trials I have put on your way to prepare you each day, more and more, for my unconditional love. I have loved you and taken away your limitations so that my true love can be shown to my people. You are a blessed family on earth and I desire to keep my blessing upon your offspring. So, today, meditate on my word and take the responsibility to rebuild. I’ll be with you, do not fear. What seems to threaten you is just a lie that has no power to destroy you. Seek my throne and you will know the truth and the truth shall make you free.”

“I am the source of life and I flow abundantly from every heart willing to love. I want to flow from your heart today, therefore, open it to love and unity and I will come in and eat with you and you with me. Put aside the learning that you had and the human loyalties that do not edify. Strengthen yourself in my enlivening Spirit and you’ll feel my strength in you. Your relationships need revival and it’s I who can give you this blessing. Be willing, then, to be a multiplier of my seeds of life, love and unity and you will not feel alone anymore. I am your Father and your Lord, your true friend of all times. Invite me to take part of your life with more intensity and you will never despise my company.”

“Don’t be ashamed to pray before your brothers or to pray in your room exposing your heart to me completely, for the prayer of the righteous is powerful and effective. There is no secret in praying, since you consider me your real friend and know what my word contains, so it will be a sword against the ties that bind you and a powerful seed to generate beauty in your life. Try new things; don’t be content with human learning that doesn’t construct anything in your interior. On the contrary, obey my Spirit and He will teach you everything you should know to exercise my authority on earth. Open wide your mouth and I will fill it, that’s what my word says. Therefore, devote yourself to me day by day; so your mouth will be my exclusive domain and you will no longer pray vain repetitions, but you will experience my newness of life every time you let my Spirit speak for you. Remember that no man knows how he ought to pray; only the Counselor that I left within you has the power to bring to my altar the real causes of your life and those of your brothers. So, make today a covenant with me and let me use you as an intercessor.”

“Often, you get scared of what you read in my word, because it seems contradictory to what you live in the world. However, I tell you that you’re living what my Spirit has taken you to live, so that you know who your true Lord is. In my kingdom, the greatest is like he who serves, so don’t give up the work I gave you, even though it may seem insignificant to the majority of men. Man sees the outward appearance, but the Lord sees the heart. Even though you are tempted to abandon humility and are affronted by what seems big and powerful, persevere in faith, for my power will be seen in your life, exactly through the simplicity and humility that I have poured on you. Meditate on my word and my example and you will discover the freedom and joy of having me as Lord, for I humiliate nobody, but I put it in honor those who do everything to give me the glory before the world. Those who exalt themselves will be humbled and those who humble themselves will be exalted. I search the hearts and know the hidden purpose in every attitude of my children. Give me your heart completely so that it may be cleansed daily from everything that makes it unclean. I take pleasure in the sincerity of heart. Remember that I came to show people the importance of unity, love and the need of mutual help, because only then they will know the true path to humility and to the freedom of my Spirit.”

“When you wander seeking teachings and revelations that can direct you through life, remember that I am your God and in me you will find the truth to be able to walk safely, even if everything around you seems confusing and meaningless. Darkness covers the earth and thick darkness the people, but the Lord will arise upon you, and his glory will appear over you, that is what my word says. But that you may resist the darkness around you, it is necessary that the perseverance and the faith I placed in your spirit move you to fight for your rights as a child of God and an ambassador of my kingdom on earth. So, be willing to study my word and come to my throne through prayer. Then I’ll strengthen you and will reveal to you the secrets that I only show to my disciples; to others, I teach in parables. Seek me with all your strength, with all your soul, with all your heart and with all your understanding and I will put you among the princes of my people.”

“My door is opened for everyone who wants to be free from the tombs of the sin and isolation. So, be strong and walk in my presence, even though the trials may seem hard and difficult to win. They are only to test your faith and your determination to follow my will. Don’t worry about those who don’t wish to grow, for often they must pass through the shadows of death to be able to value my light. In my presence you will find peace and the answers you seek to walk with your head held high and conquer your blessings. I am with you as a mighty warrior and I’ll help you win. No tie of the enemy has power over you.”

“You who have waited for my light in your ways come to me, read my word in search of revelation and understanding and everything will be clear to you. You have struggled against oppositions that make you feel on the sidelines of many things, but know now that nothing has power to touch my anointed ones when they are covered with my truth. The enemy has striven to take from you the reason on many subjects, but when my word comes out from your lips, for I chose you to be watchman among my people, the lies and false prophecies fall down and the peace I put in your heart is as a protective shield against all kind of dart thrown out of envy. Do not fear. Lift up your head and pass before the affronts, for soon you will see my justice prevailing and the snares against your life falling to the ground. The light shines in the darkness and the darkness has not overcome it. You can freely enter before my throne. Don’t come back to the things of the flesh. Don’t bow before the provocations. You are greater than all this.”

“What I expect of my people is obedience to my word and the practice of the love I taught. I have called all of you to be sowers of this seed among men so that they may know the joy of salvation. Don’t be afraid to carry out my orders, for your unconditional surrender will make you able to win the battles of your life. You all are limited in your affections, hurting each other and killing of thirst my own sheep, as in a dry, arid and lifeless desert. You will not experience my power that you seek so much to get the wins you desire, without the Great Power (the Greatest Gift) is released by my Spirit first. I have heard the cry of the distressed, asking for water and not finding them because of the hardness and the dryness of some hearts in which I have poured my authority. I have given it to you to be exercised properly; instead, you think of your personal needs and the glory of men, before giving priority to me. I have raised up prophets to exhort you and bring you back to the path where you came out, but they are not heard. I know those who are mine. That’s why you have gone through tests. I search the hearts and the thoughts, to give to each one according to his works. Seek my throne and you will live. Seek my waters and you will be satiated. Seek my love and you will be empowered for my service. Do not rebel against my Spirit or let the flesh prevail, making you lose heart in your walk. I’m the one who loves and disciplines you, so that my name may be glorified. Feed my lambs gently, tend them with dedication and exhort my sheep, in order to remain in the paths of righteousness. I have loved you. I expect from you the honor that is due to me as Father and Lord.”

“Don’t allow the demand of your flesh prevents the freedom of action of my Spirit. The spontaneity and acceptance of your own weaknesses and limitations is what makes you a child able to be molded by my hands. Don’t worry about the distorted comments of those who demand the perfection in others, but are unable to make the bold and difficult decision that many times I propose to them. My word says, ‘Wait for the Lord, and keep to his way, and he will exalt you to inherit the land. Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not rely on your own insight. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths.’ Therefore, follow what my Spirit has placed in your heart without wavering, even if you’re criticized or charged. My blood justifies you from all sin and cleanses you from all unrighteousness. There is therefore now no condemnation for you. Do not fear. I am with you as a mighty warrior and I’ll help you win. Sow love and you will receive multiplied what you have sown.”

“Daughter, you know, for I have spoken to you long ago, that before you were born I separated you to be my mouth on earth, to take my word to men and show my light among your brothers. I gave you power and authority over the enemy and nothing, absolutely, will do you harm. I have chosen you to know my will, to see the action and the power of my Spirit in you as it was in my beloved Son and to hear my voice clearly, because I have appointed you a prophetess. Don’t fear to use the gift I gave you. Don’t stop because of the arrows launched by the enemy to shut you up. It is I that shuts the mouths of lions and makes your tongue anointed with my power to break the chains of bondage and bring my revelation to the needy of my love. Let my words flow freely from your mouth and don’t care about the distorted view of men. I am your strong wall and your safety. Don’t be afraid of being what you truly are, for through you, many will awaken their gifts and will be holy instruments in my hands. Don’t be intimidated by threats; they are lies that have no power to act in your life anymore. I am the fire of revival, burning in your spirit and moving you to carry out my will. Don’t worry about your health or the apparent weaknesses of your body. My own Spirit that dwells in you gives life to your body, heals your pain and your wounds. Be at peace and free from your illness; your faith has saved you.”

“Daughter, I have seen your fight and your care to keep intact your limits from the aggressions and the external threats. You have wearied in your struggle for the preservation of your space; however, I come today to tell you that what I have to give you is infinitely greater than what you have sought. Give me your life, give me your heart and all your dreams and I’ll take responsibility for your safety, as I have done with all my sheep so far. What the Father has given me is greater than all, and from the hand of the Father, no one can snatch. Take care, yes, of your soul, but under my guidance and my love and you will not be ashamed. Don’t fear devastation or theft anymore; today I take you for me and you will feel safe forever.”

“Don’t cry, for I didn’t plan you to the captivity but to climb the high places of honor and victory as I do with all my children. Just be willing to leave the shackles of sin and indecision that make you prisoner and not allow you to walk in my truth. Stretch your arms to me today and I will rescue you from all paralysis and accusation. Come to me, for I say to you, ‘Daughter, your sins are forgiven, your faith has saved you. Go in peace and be healed of your suffering.’”

“Even in the most unlikely places and apparently dry of your life I pour my waters of peace, healing and refreshment. Bathe in them and let me wash your being of all concern and fear. You will know more of my power and will walk with joy among men. Nothing can stop the flow of my river in you or the move of my Spirit with blessings in your life. I supply your barns and make you see miracles. See, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh; is there anything too hard for me? Believe me, walk in my truth and will know how to reign on earth.”

“If you want to see me and understand me as I really am, go up to the spiritual heights through praise and prayer, leaving aside the things of man, for in my presence you will find peace and the revelations that you have needed to walk safely and in victory. Use the boldness that I have given you to prophesy my word and do not mind with those who are sleeping or do not want to follow my call by your side. Many are called but few are chosen. Those who seek me in spirit and truth have the opportunity to receive my strength and my revelation that lead them to the knowledge of my purpose and to gain authority over the things that the natural man cannot exercise. Today I pour upon you the peace, the light of my understanding and the assurance that I am in charge of all things. All my determination will be fulfilled on earth on your life, even if it seems impossible to carnal eyes. Continue to seek my presence and my revelation and you will pass with your head held high before the enemy in all situations. Soon, you’ll discover the totality of my plans for your call and you will no longer be afraid of the oppression and affronts, for you will see that what I gave you is bigger and stronger than everything that is below you. You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you. Your faith has great reward in my eyes.”

“Daughter, you’re a cup where the wine of my Spirit is poured out, bringing not only the joy to feel chosen by me, but also my blood that was shed on the cross for your complete freedom and victory. Feel always full with my power and don’t let the lies of the enemy make you look at yourself as a broken and empty vessel. On the contrary, the strength of my word that I put into your spirit has overthrown the invisible barriers that once arose against your life, but now no longer exist. Today I renew your strength and give you health as a spoil, because you trusted me. Don’t bring into your being an evil that does not belong to you. When you cannot solve anything with your own hands, remember that I’ve won two thousand years ago for you, and this power is available on your life whenever you come into my altar. Fear not, I am with you and you will never be ashamed. I will give you back what was plundered and stolen and everyone will know that you have a God. My word has already been released and, therefore, who can make it turn back? Your faith has healed you; go in peace and be freed from your suffering.”

“Daughter, you know that is in the simplicity and innocence that I talk to my beloved and call them to do my work. If you have felt overburdened with requirements that lead you to think that my work is heavy and source of pain, think if you’re moving in the real guidance of my Spirit, or if you are doing things just to please men. What I gave you is pure and light, without yokes and burdens, for it has your size and respects the weight you can carry. Don’t be frightened by the threats or with useless chatter that prevent you from taking on what I gave you. Do not care with those who are around you. Each one will give account of himself to me. Move forward, for all the fish I have set aside for you belong to you; I will not give them to anyone else. I love you and I take care of you.”

“When I called you the first time, you didn’t imagine that I would make you to be where you are today; however, know that I have much more to give and reveal to you. Don’t fear the responsibility that you have to take on because I would never put on a child of mine a burden beyond its capacity. Don’t hesitate in your choices, especially, use the authority that I have given you to correct the crooked paths of the rebel sheep that often bring pain to your heart. I prepared your vessel to exercise it in love and you will not be ashamed. Don’t fear the rejection of men or the mediocrity of their carnal thoughts. You have my approval and I will give you to know the peace that I can put on your soul by having obeyed me. You’ll feel my love as a force far more powerful than anything that might threaten you and you will not be touched by this, because whoever stirs up strife with you shall fall because of you. No weapon that is fashioned against you shall prosper, and you shall confute every tongue that rises against you in judgment. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord and their vindication from me. Look at the small and meek sheep that need your counsel and gladden your heart, for they are your reward.”

“When you come to me bringing your pains and seeking my presence I enter within your spirit, renewing your anointing so that you may overcome the barriers that have arisen in your way not to receive the abundance that I have promised. Fear not. Lift up your sword and cut the walls of greed, because I promise you that very soon they will fall before you and my kingdom will be manifested on earth. I enter with a renewal of anointing in your life so that you may sow freely and glorify me as the only God among the nations. Your heart is mine and I pour upon it the double anointing of true prosperity, in order that you come to know the joy of working in my harvest. What I gave you is plentiful and pure, because you found out the secret to enter my altar. I also renew upon you the anointing of holiness and of the authority to break the barriers of idolatry and pride that rise against the knowledge that flows from my throne to your life. Rejoice, highly favored, for I, the Lord, I am with you, and you will no longer be afraid of devastation or theft. You will no longer feel used by the enemy for his impure purposes. My angels fight at this moment to bring back what was robbed from you. Nothing will be impossible with me in all my promises and none of them will be delayed; all will be fulfilled. Those who tried to hold you back, to accuse you or prevent your bloom and your walk are, today, under my powerful hand and will no longer bother you. The gods they serve will not deliver them, because my heart is displeased with their sacrifices. Don’t be afraid, I protect you and keep you and your life will be brighter than the noonday. Religiosity, greed, falsehood and idolatry have no power to touch you anymore. I found innocence in you and you will be honored before those who think they are powerful. I’m with you.”

“I want to lead you by straight paths, where my word will be the landmarks that will direct your actions and your feelings. Seek my presence every day and turn away from those who have no commitment with me, for they are just stumbling blocks placed in front of your feet to make you fall. Look ahead and don’t worry with things that have passed, since they have been cleansed by my blood. I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go; I will counsel you and watch over you. Many voices have spoken around you trying to confuse you, however, what I put in your heart is stronger than all the evidence you see. I straighten and release everything. I remove all the yokes in your life and you shall receive my health as a precious reward that will never be taken from you. Do not be afraid; only believe and I will give you victory. Don’t let be humiliated by the hypocrites who do nothing to improve, even, their own lives. Don’t be afraid to touch me and to want more of me. I have much more to give you than you can ask or imagine. Be bold to break the barriers of mediocrity, because where I want to put you, only a few can be.”

“Your sowing in my field may have seemed painful and difficult, even lost to human eyes, but gladden your heart. In the light of my Spirit you shall see how the seeds that you planted are. Many are germinating, others are already springing up on the ground, and soon I’ll give you what you have never thought to have, because it will be the fruit of the loving labor of your hands. Send out your bread upon the waters, for after many days you will get it back. In the morning sow your seed, and at evening do not let your hands be idle; for you do not know which will prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good. Therefore I say to you: even if it seems that you have cast seeds in lands completely barren, my Spirit will show you the truth of what He can do with the sincere work of a child of mine, when he truly wants to be a sower. You will come back bringing your sheaves with joy.”

“Son, don’t be afraid to enter my altar through the unconditional surrender of your heart. Let me now touch your most deep wounds, for they make you slip and tie you to the loops of the enemy. What I put in your heart is my truth and don’t let discouraging and defeatist words steal your faith in me anymore or in the gifts that I put in you. Touch me and I will touch you. Don’t be afraid to ask more of me; however, take your stand before the universe and you will no longer hobble. Your exterior will reflect the truth, the strength and firmness of your interior. Don’t be like the unbelievers who hear about me, believe that I can do all things but are afraid to touch me and to experience me deeply in their own bodies. Don’t be unbelieving, but a believer, for the true believer and worshiper has no fear of being touched deeply by my Spirit. You still need tangible proofs to know that I exist, that I love you and I’m fighting on your side in the same way that Thomas needed my physical presence with him to follow me fully as a disciple. However, let me tell you today that blessed are those who didn’t see me and believed in me; happy are those who didn’t see me personally as Thomas saw me, but even so, believed in me through my word. You may consider yourself a blessed one, because you were not with me at that time; however, you have within you my constant presence that encourages you to believe that I live in your heart and give you strength to overcome the barriers of the impossible, in order to bring my miracles to light. Receive my blessing upon your life, the blessing of faith that overcomes all unbelief and uncertainty and makes you steady and strong in my ways.”

“Son, I have called you to exercise the priesthood which I gave you in holiness so that my waters fill you and, through you, my little ones may quench their thirsty and find the true way to seek me. Perfect yourself every day in my presence and, as I did with Abraham, I will make your offspring great and prosperous. Don’t stop at your calling, nor share it with the lazy and scoffers but use the authority that I have given you and be my watchman. Use the gifts I gave you and sow them so that many may know what eternal life is. Let me use your body as a holy instrument. Don’t be dismayed or intimidated by those who criticize you; it’s because they cannot follow the height of your flight and have the gift of praising me as you do, with an open and sincere heart of a servant. Strive and receive my love today as a powerful force, at the same time, light and soft, which will make you overcome the weight of the enemy’s yoke. His envoys will no longer reach you or stop you, for they will see that the sword that I put in your mouth is sharper and can be a valuable instrument of healing in my hands. It is the key that I give you to raise the fallen, to open the doors to the prisoners, and to destroy the works of hell. I love you and care for you.”

“Son, you did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit, fruit that will last, so that the Father will give you whatever you ask him in my name. Everyone that I separate to my work must be different of any other, must be united to me and my projects above all else; must be willing to surrender so that my Spirit uses him the way I well desire. The servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, they will persecute those who are mine. If they received me, they will receive whom I send. Therefore, get ready to work and do not worry too much about your problems because when you serve me, your problems come to be mine. I am an enemy to your enemies and a foe to your foes. Come, give me your heart and your mouth fully and I will multiply your gift.”

“Son, you don’t need to be afraid to err in your decisions, because it is my Spirit that helps you to make them; only, watch your way of being and adapt yourself to the psychological and spiritual constitution that I gave you. You don’t have to imitate anyone or fear the authority that I put on you, because there are several ways to use it and you’ll see that it can be perfectly suited to your being, without you need to do a force beyond your ability. Exhort the disobedient, reprehend those who are in crooked ways, but let them freely in my hands to exercise their own free will. Your part is to be my watchman and prepare the hearts for my salvation. Don’t worry. I will bring you many hearts that are already open and thirsty for my word and that will submit to your authority in love. Then you will feel the pleasure to teach and guide them, without having to go through so many frustrations. From today on, I remove the distortions of your mind about my image so that you can realize that I am a loving Father and a loving God, and I bring no yoke to those who serve me faithfully. I will give you new experiences with me. You’ll come to serve me with joy and your loyalty to me will have reward.”

“If anyone wants to come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me and for the gospel will save it. What good is it for a man to gain the whole world, yet forfeit his soul? Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? Son, I have given my life for your soul, without interest, unconditionally, just for love; so, give me your life and your dreams so that I can help you to keep them clean and pure, free from the traps of the flesh, where the enemy has touched and made you lose big victories. Put my kingdom and my righteousness above all else and all other things will be added to you. When you sing to me, just sing to cheer my heart, for while you give yourself to me I fight for you. Don’t be afraid of devastation; it will not come to you, if you close the gap before the enemy. I know that today the awareness and repentance came to your soul; so, I renew your strength and give you the best of the gifts, which is love, so that you know the true force that moves the universe. Be strong and courageous, for I am with you wherever you go. Seek my glory, not that of man, and I will exalt you.”

“Beloved child, if your father and mother forsake you, I’ll receive you. Even if a woman forgot the child who is still at her breast, I nevertheless will not forget you. I have kept you in my hands and separated you to be my instrument of blessing, but first, let me pluck from your heart the thorns of the words and the feelings of hatred, jealousy and rejection that hurt you so much. Today, I pour my strength upon you in the presence of my Spirit, which will make you experience the joy of eternal life brought by my Son. You will understand how much you are loved by me and then you will feel strong and safe to face all fights. Feel my embrace, and the tears that flow from your eyes will cleanse you from everything that made you sad. You’ll shine before men, for I made you to be the light of the world and the salt of the earth.”

“I have heard your cry and today I remove the clouds of darkness that have affronted you, blinding you not to go ahead on your walk. As my instrument of blessing on earth, you will bring my holy word to the needy around the world, to all who have a humble heart to receive the truth that I put in your mouth through praise, for when you exalt my name, the strange thrones fall and the false gods are destroyed. Persevere in your journey and don’t be afraid to show yourself as you are or to show my authority over the spiritual world. Today I renew your faith, because your day to celebrate is coming.”

“I’m the one who provides you with gifts and gives you self-control and prudence to use them for the benefit of my work. Don’t be angry or impatient with the injustice you see in the world, because its prince knows nothing to do but defile the minds and hearts every day more and more corrupted by sin. Resist evil and it will flee from you. From now on you will know my justice and you will see that it will be always available every time you lift up your voice in prayer and worship, for vengeance is mine. I will repay those who provoke me to anger. So, clean your heart and do not let scorpions nest in it. It is written, ‘Because the Lord your God travels along with your camp, to save you and to hand over your enemies to you, therefore your camp must be holy, so that he may not see anything indecent among you and turn away from you.’ Your place will never be taken away and I myself will put you in honor before those who humiliated you. It was for freedom that I set you free; do not submit again to a yoke of slavery.”

“My delight is not in the strength of the horse, nor my pleasure in the speed of a runner, but in those who fear me, who put their hope in my unfailing love; in the humble and sincere heart that delights in my word. Only in me do you put your trust, for I am at your side and you will never be shaken. Keep the word of truth in your heart and you will know the truth and the truth will set you free. Only for my anointed ones, for my warriors, have I set aside my treasure. The strength that I place within them is love. I have placed this gift, this strength in you; use it wisely. It is a powerful weapon and a true source of life. With it you will gain the victory, for I myself will trample down your enemies. You may go through afflictions and persecutions, but the glory of this present house will be greater than that of the former one; I will fill your mouth with laughter and your lips with shouts of joy. You will know that I am your God, who teaches you what is wise and who leads you in the way of peace. My kingdom is justice, peace and joy, not cry and defeat, so act according to what I have placed in your heart and you will have what you desire.”

“Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God: None of my words will be delayed any longer, but the word that I speak will be fulfilled, says the Lord God.’” (Ezek.12: 28)
